AN INSULT TO THE VOTERS.

In presenting JOHN R. FELLOWS as their candidate for District-Attorney the Democratic leaders have deliberately insulted the honest and intelligent voters of their party.It is a time to name for public prosecutor a political boss, first foisted into public service by SWEET, and since then the subservient tool of every successive Boss?Is the boon companion of Boodlers, the im-pugnacious official against whom scores of judgments are hopelessly piled up, a man who mortgages and re-mortgages his salary in advance, a fit man to intrust with the administration of justice in this city?If this is the result of "Democratic union" it is time for another break. If harmony means supremacy for Bosses and immunity for Boodlers, let there be discord. Every interest of good government demands the defeat of this most unfit nomination.

THE REPUBLICAN OPPORTUNITY.

Never in the history of politics in this city have the Republicans had such an open road to success as that which now awaits them.The ticket of the Democratic Bosses is stained with corruption, handicapped by Boodlerism and defeat of the popular will.The scandalous nomination of FELLOWS, the substitution of a Wall street broker for a tried and faithful Comptroller, and other weak if not unfit nominations, overbalance the good names on the ticket.It is the Republican opportunity. The defeat of FELLOWS is inevitable. The nomination of NICOLL by the Republicans, and the exercise of courage, honesty and shrewdness in making up the rest of their ticket, will enable them to elect it from top to bottom.The issue is on between Boodlerism and Integrity, between law-breakers and Justice, between the Bosses and the People.Let the Republicans rise to the level of their opportunity.

THE PRESIDENT'S RETURN.

The President returns to Washington today after an extended tour that cannot have failed to impress him with the fact that this is a Nation with a big, big N.It is hoped that he has seen enough to convince him that business does not centre in Wall street nor politics in Massachusetts.It is likewise to be desired that the incensuring by nycophant Cabinet officers and ultra-prose local orators shall not cloud his perception of the fact that this is a government of, for and by the people, who tolerate no "rulers," but merely appoint an agent to do their will.Now for work that tells and reforms that endures.

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Perfect independence is a prime necessity of the Bench. But how can a Judge be untram-melled, who mortgages his salary in advance to a political organization?Public confidence in the judiciary is a sheet anchor of public welfare. But how can the public have confidence in a bench filled by men who have purchased their seats?Money-bags should have no weight in the scales of justice. But is not the step dangerously short between buying a Judgeship and buying a Judge?Will the judicial candidates in this campaign render themselves unfit in the public estimation by consenting to pay these pernicious assessments?

NOT YET SILENT.

Now that a grotesquely unfit nomination for District-Attorney has been made the World naturally considers that the talk about Boodlers is "a worn-out cry."The fact that there are thirteen ex-Alders-men, five ex-Bosses and several other boodle-dispensers still under indictment for bribery is enough to require the election of a District-Attorney who does not consider the demand for justice a "worn-out cry."

But the other fact—that politicians who natural sympathies are with plunderers and Boodlers have overruled the honest party leaders and dictated a nomination to suit their own purposes, renders it still more imperative for the people to show that they are not tired of the demand for good government.When the Boodlers are all punished and their friends no longer control politics, it will be time enough for the "cry" to stop.

TOO WARM AND TOO COOL.

The office-holding oligarchs have denied to the honest Democratic voters a candidate for District-Attorney whose sole offense is that "he has made New York too hot for Boodlers."Now remains for the voters to make Nov. 8th the "coldest day" for the Bosses that they have ever known since TWEN's fall.

WHY?

Why has Dr LANCEY NICOLL been rejected by the politicians?Is he not honest? Is he not able? Has he not been faithful to duty and remarkably successful as a public prosecutor? Is he not a sound Democrat? Is he not popular with the people?There is not an honest man in New York who will not say YES to all these questions.
Why, then, was NICOLL rejected?There is but one reason, and all New York knows it. It is because he has been too honest, too able, too faithful, too popular. He could not be made to "let up" on rogues of any degree. He would not respond to a political "pull" to save an imperilled Boodler. The Bosses who control the party machine have no use for such a man in the District-Attorney's office.

And this is why NICOLL was knifed.

QUITE TOO ABSURD.

The most ridiculous suggestion in connection with the District-Attorneyship is that Mr. NICOLL "may be retained as Col. Fellow's assistant."Col. FELLOWS will never have need of an official "assistant." He will be buried out of sight at the polls. There need be no doubt about that.But if FELLOWS were to be elected, Dr LANCEY NICOLL would no more play second fiddle to this mere spouter than he would hire out as an attorney's clerk. To suggest it would be like asking a victorious General to accept the position of sutler's clerk to a camp follower.

THE DOORWAY FEND.

That so conspicuous and obnoxious a character as the "doorway fend" should have so long escaped the paragraph, not to say the police, is a wonder.Before his bad pre-eminence all the other "fends" bow in deep chagrin. His favorite summer and winter resort is the doorway of the horse-cars. Especially on a hotball car do his unrestricted talents shine. He holds mass-meetings in the narrow foot vestibules.
He blocks the entrances of the theatres, the exchanges, the big stores and the newspaper offices with unparalleled disregard for the rest of humanity.He is even more difficult to suppress than the book agent. "Show him the door," and you merely abet his designs. A patent adjustable threshold, worked by a grand-bouncing spring, is probably the only thing that will rid us of the "doorway fend."

A TICKET OF REVENGE.

The County Democracy Bosses seem to have sacrificed all other considerations to an insatiable thirst for revenge.To obtain this Tammany was given the preponderance of the ticket, the County Democracy retaining but three of the ten offices.The "knife" was plunged into NICOLL with malicious satisfaction by the Boodlers and their friends. Honest and efficient Comptroller LOW was slaughtered because he had done his duty too well and too fearlessly in guarding the public treasury against the assaults of dishonest contractors.

Will the voters abet this sort of revenge?

It appears to be Civil-Service Commissioner BOONSTON's idea that it is all right for Government clerks to organize for partisan activity if only they are Democrats. What a piled and ring-streaked Reform we shall have if this sort of thing goes on.When we reduce the campaign in behalf of Mr.
NICOLL for the District-Attorneyship to its last analysis it comes to this—his simply did his duty. We of course respect a man for doing his duty, but we do not necessarily honor him. What else could he do?—N. Y. Herald.

He might have gone to the Hot Springs.

DR LANCEY NICOLL's firm health is a point in his favor. He could not be made to see that he required a journey to the South when a pet of the Ring and the Corporations was to be put on trial for accepting a bribe.It is asserted that JAY GOULD will spend the winter on the Mediterranean. As an eratic, disturbing and dangerous force he could give pointers to Vesuvius and Etna.GLADSTONE has been made an "antiquarian" by a society in Massachusetts. He is at his best, however, as a contemporary. The Tories are the real antiquarians.The sort of FelloWS the people want in their semi-judicial positions are those whose constitutions do not habitually break down when Boodlers are at the bar.

BACK AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. CLEVELAND REACH WASHINGTON ON TIME.The Presidential Train Arrived at 6.45 This Morning and the Party Were at Once Delivered to Their Respective Homes. All Were Well, Although, as Expected, Fatigued by the Long Journey—The Trip Enjoyed.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The President's special train arrived here at 6.45 this morning, and Mr. Cleveland's three weeks' excursion came to an end without incident.
The air was clear and frosty, and the twenty or thirty people, mostly colored, who stood around waiting to catch a glimpse of the distinguished party, tucked their hands into their pockets and turned up their coat collars to keep warm. The President's carriage was in waiting at the end of the station and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, with Law Parson Bissell, were driven at once to the White House.Carriages were also on hand to receive Postmaster General Vilas, Col. Lamont and other members of the party.When the train pulled into the station the excursionists were assembled in the rear of "P. P. C." car. Mr. Cleveland was the first one to alight. He bowed to a couple of the White House servants, who stood with uncovered heads to greet him, and started across the track alone to his carriage. Mrs. Cleveland followed him closely, and with a pleasant smile to the train attendants, stepped forward quickly and overtook the President. She wore a close-fitting travelling dress of blue shade, and looked as fresh and bright as on the day of her departure.The President wore his customary suit of black, and his face had a wearied expression.
He appeared to be very glad to get back and that his long journey was over. He said he had enjoyed his trip very much, and that he gained much useful information about the people and the country.Col. Lamont and Mr. Vilas and Mr. Bissell were also on hand to receive the President and his family. Mr. Vilas looked pretty well used up. The train was loaded down with floral designs and other gifts presented to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland by enthusiastic admirers. These were transferred to a wagon and conveyed to the White House.Asheville, N. C., was the last stop of any length made by the President's train yesterday. Crowds gathered at the stations along the route from that point, but no stop was made to give them a chance to shake hands with the President.The members of the party retired at an early hour last night and the train was run at a slow rate of speed to give them a good night's rest. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland appeared as usual, just as the train was pulling into Alexandria. The dome of the Capitol was visible from this point, and Mrs. Cleveland said it was a most welcome sight. A member of the party was asked how the different parts of the country impressed the President."We had an opportunity," he said, "of contrasting Northern and Southern hospitality. Everywhere the reception was cordial and the President appeared to be without regard to political lines. Republicans were upon all of the reception committees, and worked as loyally for the Democratic candidate as any entertain the President. In the North we met with organized hospitality. There were very few hitches in the management, while in the South the people were of a more individual character, and was not quite so harmonious in its execution. The arrangements at Atlanta were the worst we encountered. In fact, everywhere the reception tended to be of this kind, and the crowd was something fearful.
The reception at Montgomery was one of the most successful of the trip. The most perfect order was maintained, and the arrangements were carefully made and executed. The President was very much impressed with the growth of the North and Southwest."

AS OTHERS SEE US.

The Press Has No End of Praise for "The Evening World."

[From the Outlook (N. Y.) Westchester.]

If it were not using slang to say so, one might enthusiastically exclaim THE EVENING WORLD that "it is a daisy."

[From the New Orleans Chronicle.]

THE EVENING WORLD, with its first-class typography, brief and independent editing, and satisfying condensations of news of the day, is the latest narrative marvel of New York.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

The New York World now publishes an evening paper called THE EVENING WORLD. If it could be called "The Earth" it would have killed a long-waited-for. Most of the New York people seem to want the Earth.

[From the Arkansas Gazette.]

THE EVENING WORLD is an event in New York journalism. It displays the enterprise that distinguishes the morning WORLD, is under the same general management, and will make the same rapid strides toward success.

[From the Pyrene (Pa.) Times.]

That great paper, the New York World, has commenced the publication of an evening edition, the initial number of which was issued last week.
It is exclusive of the morning, weekly, semi-weekly and Sunday editions. It seems there is nothing impossible now-a-days in newspaper work in the larger cities.

[From the Tarragonmouth (Mass.) Mayflower.]

The New EVENING WORLD of New York City, contains a large amount of interesting news, presented in a highly attractive manner. The enormous circulation instantly gained by THE WORLD may be due to the fact that previous efforts by New York journalists to build up the circulation of an evening paper have not been properly directed, and that there is an immense field there that has been for a long time waiting for the proper cultivator.

[From the Nashville American.]

The New York World's evening edition has sprung into unprecedented circulation. The edition Monday, the first date of its issue, was 111,- 410, which grew to 125,430 on Wednesday. With the field so well covered, apparently, the enormous and sudden growth is simply astonishing. But there isn't any doubt that the same brain and experience and good judgment that made THE WORLD the guidance of the evening edition. It has no superior in journalism.

[From the Troy Budget.]

THE (N. Y.) EVENING WORLD jumped into existence on Monday last with a circulation of over 111,000. No such feat has been performed since Minerva sprang forth fully armed from the brain of Jove. THE EVENING WORLD is a great triumph of journalism. It is a fair to live forever as an instrument for the survival of the fittest. Whatsoever happens to other mundane enterprises is likely to survive "the wreck of matter and the crash of other worlds" when the dual smash comes on millennial day. It is worthy of the success it has achieved. Price one cent.
